

NON-TRIVIAL FACT:

Coerced Abortion Is Common

52% of American women suffering post-abortion grief reported being “forced by others”
into unwanted abortions.

RACHEL’S NON-TRIVIAL STORY:

“My boyfriend threatened me.”

“I was 17 ... I wanted to have the child, but my boyfriend threatened me. I was also terrified about how my father would react. I didn’t know where to turn. At the clinic, they told me abortion was my only option. Ten years later, I sought counseling for eating disorders. I was close to suicide ...”

Like Rachel, most women feel pressured by others into abortion. The fact that millions of women are coerced into unwanted abortions is anything but trivial.

Abortion is a poor choice and women deserve better.
